ORIGINAL

Respondent Ann Long, a tangential party to this action as a result of her former marriage to Michael Long, joins, and incorporates herein by reference, the Michael Long respondents' responsive briefing.

In addition, it should be pointed out that contrary to appellants' contention, Ann Long does not support appellants' position, or disagree in any respect with the argument set forth by the Michael Long respondents. The basis for appellants' contention is not a position set forth by Ms. Long, but merely a recitation of facts, specifically a reference to appellants' deposition testimony. Ms. Long does not contend that these facts alter the analysis set forth by the Michael Long respondents, or in any way places the respondents in disparate positions.

Appellants made this exact same argument in the trial court below (CP 0481, ll. 11-16), and it is no more compelling now. For the reasons set forth in Michael Long respondents' responsive brief, appellants' appeal must fail.

Respectfully submitted this 12th day of March, 2013.
